

Energy and Focus

Having a demanding business meeting? Learning for exams? Whatever we have to deal with, sometimes we feel exhausted and are lacking the energy we need to make our brain work with a top performance.

SUNLIFE® Brain Performance sticks contain essential building blocks of the neurotransmitter Acetylcholine which is important for the communication between our nerve cells.

B vitamins help to reduce tiredness and fatigue and support the function of the nervous system.

Piperin (a natural compound from black pepper) helps the production of beta-endorphins which make us feel euphoric on the one side and reduce stress on the other.

Piperin moreover helps to better absorb vitamins and various other nutrients.
